

LUXKING

OUR JOURNEY

Luxking Group Holdings Limited and its subsidiaries ("Luxking" or "Group") continues to stand as a leading manufacturer in the specialised fields of pressure-sensitive adhesive ("PSA") tape products and biaxially oriented polypropylene ("BOPP") films.

Since its listing on the mainboard of the Singapore Exchange Limited under the stock code BKK in 2005, Luxking has been a symbol of innovation and quality.

Committed to integrating sustainability into its business, the Group upholds the core values of pursuing excellence, continuous innovation, and exceeding customer expectations.

OUR FACTORIES

Zhongshan, Guangdong

Luxking's manufacturing heartbeat pulses in Zhongshan, Guangdong Province, and Anlu, Hubei Province, within the People's Republic of China ("China").

We are strategically positioned to serve customers across China.

Anlu, Hubei

The new production plant in Hubei extends the Group's presence from Southern China to the Northern region.

OUR FACILITIES

At Luxking, we continue to lead the way in acquiring the latest technology in production processes and investing in upgrades to enhance machine efficiency and the overall performance of our production facilities.

We are also cognisant of our carbon footprint, whereby we constantly look for energy-efficient machinery and renewable energy source opportunities.
