Question

Can you provide more colour on the impact of the Iran war, Straits of Hormuz blockade and the rise in energy prices on the company? Please explain and elaborate.

Company's response

The Group's businesses are primarily in lifestyle retail and digital payment services in Malaysia. The Company does not expect the current geo-political events and macro-economic conditions highlighted to have an immediate direct material impact on the Group's operations or financial performance. However, any prolonged uncertainties and inflationary pressures arising from these events and conditions may affect overall business sentiment and soften consumer spending on discretionary activities such as entertainment, indirectly affecting the Group's business. The Company will continue to monitor developments and adapt accordingly.
