- (b) the Informal Meeting has been called solely for the dissemination of information and no decisions or voting will be made at the Informal Meeting;
- (c) the Informal Meeting is private and confidential and will be held on an entirely without prejudice basis; and
- (d) in addition to Noteholders on the records of The Central Depository (Pte) Limited who presently are recognised as Noteholders under the terms of the trust deed and the Notes, there may be persons holding the underlying beneficial interest who may also attend the Informal Meeting, and the reason why these persons have been allowed to attend is not in recognition of their status as Noteholders but solely as a practical measure to facilitate the dissemination of information to such persons whom nominee Noteholders having rights may take instructions from.

Any consent given in relation to personal data shall survive death, incapacity, bankruptcy or insolvency of the Noteholder or the individual whose personal data was provided and the termination or conclusion of the Informal Meeting. For the purposes of this paragraph, “personal data” has the meaning ascribed to it in the PDPA.
