CLARIFICATION ANNOUNCEMENT ON THE NEWS ARTICLE PUBLISHED IN THE EDGE SINGAPORE

The Board of Directors of Alliance Mineral Assets Limited (the “Company”) refers to the news article published by The Edge Singapore on 23 September 2016 titled “AMA forms joint venture to produce lithium after tantalum prices collapse”.

The Company wishes to clarify the following:

The Company has commenced discussions with potential off-takers for lithium along with Lithco No. 2 Pty Ltd (“Lithco”) but to-date, no definitive agreement(s) has been entered into. In the event any definitive material agreement(s) in relation thereto is signed, the Company will make the necessary disclosure(s) by way of announcements accordingly.

The pegmatite production of two million tonnes a year is based on Lithco’s projections and on the assumption that it will spend the full A$20 million on the Company’s Bald Hill Project. Such A$20 million expenditure refers to A$7.5 million of expenditure commitment by Lithco to earn 50% of the lithium rights in the tenements and A$12.5 million of capital expenditure commitment by Lithco to earn 50% of the Bald Hill Project to form a 50:50 joint venture on the Bald Hill Project pursuant to the Binding Terms Sheet dated 3 June 2016 entered into between the Company and Lithco. For further information, please refer to the Company’s circular dated 24 August 2016. The Company will be entering into formal binding definitive agreements with Lithco in relation to the aforementioned and will make the necessary announcements in relation thereto.

Lastly, while the Company has received an email confirmation to commence introduction talks with Temasek Holdings through a Singapore statutory body, no formal talks have taken place to-date.
