SINGAPORE ◆ 25 JULY 2017

For immediate release

PEC Ltd. (PEC, and together with its subsidiaries and associated companies, the Group) has been recognised yet again for its unwavering dedication to ensuring the safety and well-being of its workers, securing 11 awards from the Workplace Safety and Health (WSH) Council this year.

The Group clinched two WSH Performance Awards (Silver) for its successful development of effective safety and health management systems that meet or exceed the most exacting industry standards, and obtained 6 Safety and Health Award Recognition for Projects awards for its projects or worksites where successful WSH management systems have been deployed to establish industry best practices.

PEC also won the WSH Innovation Award for a new laser-marking system for the mechanical tagging of materials and equipment which improves speed, accuracy and noise reduction. Jointly developed with the Agency for Science, Technology and Research, the mobile unit is easy to assemble and use, requires less manpower and reduces exposure to on-site hazards, enhancing both cost-efficiency and health, safety, security and environment performance.

Finally, two other subsidiaries each brought home a WSH Risk Management Award. Testing Inspection & Solution Pte. Ltd. picked up the award for a second time, having continued to uphold risk management practices that complement the wide range of heat treatment and inspection services it offers. ISOTECH Pte. Ltd., on the other hand, obtained the award for the first time, having designed rigorous risk management systems that ensure worker safety in its provision of testing and isolation services.

Mr Robert Dompeling, PEC's Group Chief Executive Officer, said: "As always, keeping our people safe and healthy is our top priority. Over the years, we have continued to build up a culture and an infrastructure that support that imperative, driving home the message of taking every precaution and going that extra mile to safeguard every worker.

“Securing these awards attests to the progress we have made on this front – this positive affirmation will spur us on in our efforts to continually reassess our systems while raising service standards and strengthening project execution.”
