BH Global's Athena Dynamics enters into strategic partnership with Horangi Cyber Security

- Athena Dynamics to expand on one-stop experience for expert advice on collective cyber protection strategies, products and services
- Strategic partnership with Horangi through Good Hackers Alliance (“GHA”), an existing collaboration between ADPL and NSHC Security focused on Deep Vulnerability Assessment and Penetration Testing (Deep VAPT) for IT and OT (ICS/SCADA) Systems

Singapore, 28 March 2018 – BH Global Corporation Limited (“BH Global”, “明辉环球企业” or the “Group”), an established group providing a comprehensive suite of solutions such as Supply Chain management, Design & Manufacturing solutions, Engineering solutions and Surveillance & Cyber Security Solutions to the Marine & Offshore, Oil & Gas, Industrial, Petrochemical and Commercial industries, is pleased to announce that its subsidiary, Athena Dynamics (“ADPL”), has entered into a strategic partnership with Horangi Cyber Security (“Horangi”).

Horangi was established in 2016 and has a team of over 50 professionals that include cyber operators, software developers and business professionals. Horangi has certified expertise in Vulnerability Assessment and Penetration Testing (VAPT) and Incident Response (IR) capability, and its service offerings include digital forensics, cryptocurrency security and cyber fraud, amongst others.

Commenting on the strategic partnership, Mr Ken Soh, Chief Executive Officer of ADPL said, “As the world becomes more vulnerable to cybersecurity threats, it is essential for companies to be able to identify threats before they materialize. Unfortunately, every company is different and each environment, be it information technology (IT) or operational technology (OT), calls for very different and distinctive cyber protection requirements. Without deeper knowledge of the cyber security landscapes, an end-user’s search for quality security solutions and service providers is now a highly complex and risky pursuit. GHA, together with partners such as Horangi, bring about a one-stop experience for expert advice on collective cyber protection strategies, products and services. The alliance has since its inception in 2015, assisted numerous companies countered serious cyber threats with the right mix of products and services. Today, Athena Dynamics’ strategic tie-up with Horangi will bring about strengthened propositions to our customers especially in certified VAPT and IR services.”

The strategic partnership underpins ADPL’s growth and expansion of its comprehensive suite of high quality and flexible solutions for its clients. In combination with ADPL’s and GHA’s extensive qualifications and industry experiences, as well as a strong network of domain expertise at senior levels, the strategic partnership allows for ADPL to take its VAPT and IR capabilities to new heights.

“This partnership is highly strategic because it fulfils an imminent need to address fast-emerging cyber threats. Companies should not wait to be hacked, they need to know where their vulnerabilities are and tighten their cyber security measures. At Horangi, all our consultants are certified, and we are undergoing further certification under CREST and Accreditation@IMDA. Our goal ultimately is to raise awareness of cyber security threats in the region and to educate companies on being resilient and resourceful,” said Paul Hadjy, Chief Executive Officer and Co-Founder, Horangi Cyber Security.
