

21 April 2023

It has been reported by Australian media that Australian law firm Slater & Gordon has filed a class action with the Federal Court of Australia against Optus in relation to the criminal cyber-attack undertaken against Optus in September last year.

Optus has yet to be served with any court documents on the matter.

As previously announced, any class action will be vigorously defended.

Optus Media Centre contact: media@optus.com.au