2. Based on 1H FY24/25 NPI and excludes Mapletree Anson for a comparable basis.

Conclusion

- The broad market landscape remains complex, influenced by geopolitical conflicts and their knock-on effects. However, the Fed's rate cut and China's economic stimulus measures could potentially boost overall market sentiment and provide some relief.
- Singapore continues to be MPACT's cornerstone of stability amid diverging market currents. With the majority of our portfolio in Singapore, MPACT will continue to benefit from Singapore's steady performance underpinned by high committed occupancy and healthy rental reversions. While near-term uncertainties remain, Greater China remains a significant force in Asia's long-term economic growth.
- Localised market softness in Makuhari, Japan, has affected our three properties there (mBAY POINT, Fujitsu Makuhari Building and Makuhari Bay Tower), but the impact is expected to be limited as they account for about 5.4% of MPACT's FY23/24 NPI. The Manager is proactively assessing various strategic options and implementing mitigating initiatives to address these challenges in the Makuhari submarket. The other six Japan properties are expected to remain stable.
- The strategic divestment of Mapletree Anson has strengthened MPACT's financial position, enhancing our capacity to pursue value-adding opportunities. Our management focus remains on maintaining healthy occupancy levels, steady rental income and effective cost management. Additionally, the Manager is advancing asset enhancing initiatives to drive performance. Anchored by core assets, VivoCity and MBC, and with Singapore forming a major component of the portfolio, MPACT is well-placed to maintain long-term stability amid market fluctuations.

Singapore Retail – Market Overview

Overall retail sales impacted by strong Singapore dollar and higher outbound travel; continued tourism recovery, strong pipeline of events, and limited new supply expected to support the retail sector

Key Retail Malls and Submarkets

- The HarbourFront/Alexandra micro-market, part of the Greater Southern Waterfront precinct, is slated for urban transformation under the Urban Redevelopment Authority (“URA”)’s Master Plan 2019. This initiative will create a major gateway for “Future Live, Work and Play”.
- VivoCity, with its lettable area of close to 1.1 million square feet, is a key development in this HarbourFront/Alexandra precinct. This iconic mall is directly connected to the HarbourFront MRT station, and enjoys exceptional connectivity to Sentosa and the HarbourFront Centre.
- VivoCity is further poised to benefit from the upcoming direct connectivity to the Marina Bay MRT station, scheduled for completion in 2026, and the planned development for the Greater Southern Waterfront area.

- Singapore’s GDP grew by 4.1% yoy in 3Q 2024, extending from the 2.9% growth in the previous quarter. All sectors contributed to this growth, with the manufacturing sector performing strongly and recording a strong rebound of 7.5% yoy. Meanwhile, inflation eased slightly, dropping to 2.8% in 2Q 2024 from 3.0% in 1Q 2024.
- The overall retail sales for July-August 2024 showed a clear contrast. As motor vehicle sales surged, retail sales across other sectors dropped 2.2% yoy. Growth in the food & alcohol and supermarkets & hypermarkets sectors was offset by declines in the department stores, apparel & footwear, and optical goods & books sectors.
- Singapore’s retail market is set to see limited new supply. Approximately 0.6 million square feet of new retail space is expected from 3Q 2024 to 2026, averaging 0.3 million square feet per year, lower than the past five-year annual average of 0.5 million square feet.
- The retail market continues to navigate challenges, including a tight labour market and rising operating costs. Additionally, the strong Singapore dollar and increased outbound travel have put pressure on overall retail sales volume. However, a continued recovery in tourism and healthy pipeline of live entertainment events scheduled for the rest of 2024 are expected to boost footfall and support the retail sector. Given the relatively limited new retail supply, retail occupancy levels are likely to remain tight. As a result, rents are expected to continue their upward trajectory, albeit at a moderated pace.

Singapore Office – Market Overview

New supply and subdued demand expected to continue to exert pressure on occupancy levels and rents, but quality spaces in prime locations better positioned to benefit from flight-to-quality trend

Key Office Districts

- Rising rents and tight vacancies in the CBD over the past few years have resulted in a move towards a decentralised business operation model.
- Our office assets are predominantly in the HarbourFront/Alexandra and Tanjong Pagar Micro-markets. In the longer term, with the gradual completion of projects under the Greater Southern Waterfront master plan, the myriad of new land uses, as well as refreshed supporting amenities and facilities, will position the precinct as the gateway to “Future Live, Work and Play”.

- In 2Q 2024, overall islandwide vacancy rate rose 1.2 pp qoq to 10.8%, while rents rose 1.5% over the same period. This was mainly driven by good quality prime CBD office spaces being renewed at higher rents. Grade A City Fringe rents remained stable.
- Approximately 2.8 million square feet of new office space is expected from 3Q 2024 to 2026, averaging 1.1 million square feet per year. This surpasses the past five-year annual average of 1.0 million square feet, with the majority of new supply concentrated in the Core CBD.
- The ongoing economic uncertainties and elevated capital costs have led to continued workforce reduction across industries. Tenants remained cautious about new take-ups and expansion plans.
- The combination of significant new supply and subdued demand is expected to exert downward pressure on both CBD and islandwide office occupancy rates and rental levels as competition for tenants intensifies.
- Despite these challenges, the flight-to-quality trend persists. New office developments in prime locations are better positioned to benefit from improvements in economic conditions as tenants continue to prioritise high-quality spaces.

Singapore Business Parks – Market Overview

Singapore's business park sector is poised for sustained attractiveness in the long term given the government's continued efforts in fostering high-value and knowledge-based industries

Existing and Planned Business Park Clusters

- Business parks are campus-like business spaces that occupy at least five hectares of land. The campuses typically have lush greenery, a full suite of amenities and facilities and high quality building designs. These spaces are generally occupied by businesses that are engaged in advanced technology, research and development in high value-added and knowledge intensive activities.
- Mapletree Business City, located in the Fringe Submarket, and features Grade A building specifications within an integrated business hub with a full suite of contemporary amenities.

- In 2Q 2024, the vacancy rate for the Central Region declined by 0.4 pp to 11.2%, while rents fell 1.1% qoq. This is likely due to landlords reducing rents to attract tenants and boost occupancy. In contrast, the overall Islandwide vacancy rate declined 0.3 pp to 21.7%, with rents rising 1.8% over the same period.
- New business park supply totalling approximately 3.2 million square feet is projected from 3Q 2024 to 2026. This averages 1.3 million square feet per year, higher than the past five-year annual average of 0.5 million square feet. The Central Region will comprise 30% of the new supply, with the remaining 70% in the Rest of Island submarket.
- Business park space demand is expected to remain muted due to ongoing hybrid work arrangements, tightened foreign employment policies, and ongoing cost pressures. Tenants are likely to maintain caution regarding new space commitments and expansion plans. Furthermore, the new supply completions slated for the end of 2024 are expected to intensify competition for tenants and sustain vacancy levels, particularly in the Rest of Island submarket.
- Despite the projected increase in vacancy rates, Islandwide rents will likely remain largely stable, underpinned by the leasing of new business park space commanding higher rents.
- Singapore's business park sector is poised for sustained attractiveness in the long term due to the government's continued efforts in fostering high-value and knowledge-based industries.

Hong Kong Retail – Market Overview

Near-term pressures remain, but tourism rebound and government initiatives could support consumption, with added potential for positive spillover from China's economic measures

Key Retail Areas

- Festival Walk is directly linked to the Kowloon Tong station, the interchange for the local underground Kwun Tong Line of the Mass Transit Railway of Hong Kong. With its direct connection to the MTR, Festival Walk is easily accessible from the north-eastern part of the New Territories, the whole of Kowloon Peninsula, Hong Kong Island and across the border from the Shenzhen area of China.
- Festival Walk also offers excellent direct access via private transport, providing 830 car parking spaces that are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

- Hong Kong's 2Q 2024 GDP grew 3.3% yoy, mainly driven by the ongoing rebound in tourism. Inflation rate in 3Q 2024 registered an increase, rising to 2.5% from 1.2% in the previous quarter, reflecting a gradual economic recovery and increasing domestic costs.
- While Hong Kong's inbound travel has been improving gradually, visitor numbers still remain below pre-2018 social incidents and pre-COVID-19 levels. In addition, there has been an observed shift in consumer behaviour away from luxury shopping habits. Consequently, 3Q 2024 retail rents grew marginally at 0.2% qoq, slower than expected.
- Approximately 3.4 million square feet of new retail space is expected to be injected in 2024, with Kowloon East under pressure with three upcoming developments adding 1.5 million square feet of retail space. This new supply could exert additional downward pressure on rents in the Kowloon East and Kowloon Tong submarkets.
- Despite the government's effort to promote leisure and MICE events and stimulate local consumption, the retail market is expected to remain on a softening trend for the rest of the year. However, continued government initiatives, such as hosting large-scale events, offering immersive tours, and organising diverse activities to attract visitors, will support Hong Kong's retail sector and boost local consumption. Furthermore, the overall economic sentiment is likely to be bolstered by stimulus measures taken by China, potentially creating positive spillover effects for the territory's retail landscape.

Beijing Office Market – Market Overview

Despite current headwinds, recent government measures offer encouraging signs and China maintains positive long-term prospects

Key Office Districts

- Eight major office submarkets in Beijing
- The Lufthansa district of Beijing, where Gateway Plaza is located, is one of the most established international commercial zones in Beijing.
- Lufthansa has a strong presence of international schools, western supermarkets, international dining options and shopping malls.
- Coupled with its good accessibility to the Beijing International Airport, the Lufthansa district is a popular area for expats and multinational companies (MNCs).

- China's 3Q 2024 GDP growth moderated slightly to 4.6% yoy from 4.7% in 2Q 2024 amid weak domestic demand and sentiment. On a qoq basis, the economy grew 0.9% in the third quarter, compared to 0.7% in the second quarter. Despite the marginal decline, recent stimulus policies by the Chinese government signalled its commitment to boost the economy, marking a step in the right direction.
- In 3Q 2024, landlords continued to lower rents and offer rental incentives to attract tenants, resulting in a 5.4% qoq decline in Beijing's overall rents. This strategy has led to some success in the pre-leasing of new projects and absorption of existing office stock, raising Beijing's overall occupancy rate by 0.6% qoq to 80.0%. The Lufthansa submarket observed a similar trend in the quarter, with occupancy rising 1.4 pp qoq to 78.6% and rents declining 5.0% qoq.
- As companies seek cost-reduction strategies to improve their operational efficiencies, the continued rent reductions support a recovery in tenant activities as businesses take advantage of lower rents for relocation and consolidation plans.
- Looking ahead, Beijing's overall vacancy rate is expected to remain around 20% for the rest of the year, with rents facing continued downward pressure. While a recovery in the office sector hinges on a broader macroeconomic turnaround, recent government measures offer encouraging signs, and China maintains positive long-term prospects.

Shanghai Business Parks – Market Overview

Landlord incentives and rental reductions boosted net absorption and stable occupancy in 3Q 2024. New supply to pressure rents but high-tech sector growth could drive a rebound in leasing demand

Core and Emerging Business Parks

- There are six key business parks (Zhangjiang, Caohejing, Jinqiao, Linkong, Shibei and Caohejing Pujiang) as well as other emerging business parks in Shanghai.
- Predominantly located in decentralised locations, which are increasingly popular among corporates. Rents are typically around half the level of traditional offices.
- At Zhangjiang Science City where Sandhill Plaza is located, biomedical, semi-conductors and technology companies have clustered to create an innovation hub.

- Shanghai's business park sector navigated persistent softness in 3Q 2024, as overall rents declined 6.1% qoq. However, increased landlord incentives and rental reductions drove improved net absorption, with the Zhangjiang submarket accounting for nearly half of Shanghai's total net absorption. This combination of higher net absorption and lower rents resulted in Shanghai's overall vacancy rate unchanged from the previous quarter.
- Approximately 4.2 million square metres of new supply is projected from 4Q 2024 to 2026, averaging 1.9 million square metres per year. This influx is expected to continue exerting pressure on occupancy and rental levels across the market.
- Despite 3Q 2024's uptick in net absorption, the recovery in Shanghai's business park sector remains uncertain due to the impending supply. Encouragingly, the total output value for Shanghai's industrial enterprises surged 6.1% yoy in 2Q 2024, driven by robust growth in the high-tech sectors, namely integrated circuits, biotechnology and AI. While the influx of supply will likely continue to weigh on rents, a sustained expansion of the high-tech sector, together with an anticipated economic recovery from 2025, could potentially drive a rebound in leasing demand.

Greater Tokyo Office – Market Overview

Diverse trends in Tokyo's office market, with Yokohama and Chiba continuing to face supply-demand imbalance

Map of Office Markets

- Greater Tokyo Area's office market comprises Tokyo 23 wards (which includes the Tokyo Central 5 wards), Chiba City and Yokohama City.
- Tokyo's five central wards are home to the largest agglomeration of office buildings and headquarters of many global enterprises.
- For companies seeking to establish subsidiaries or satellite offices outside Tokyo for business continuity, Yokohama is a preferred choice as it offers an attractive standard of living and good array of amenities, while Chiba offers cost advantages.

- Japan's 2Q 2024 GDP grew by an annualised 2.9% from the previous quarter. This translates into a qoq expansion of 0.7% in price-adjusted terms. The Ishiba administration, which took office in October 2024, has pledged to maintain economic policy continuity, focusing on overcoming deflation and achieving sustainable growth led by private demand. Meanwhile, the Bank of Japan has held its short-term interest rate at around 0.25%, while allowing more flexibility in long-term rates.
- Tokyo's office market showed varied trends in 3Q 2024. Tokyo's 5 wards experienced an accelerated demand recovery with rents rising 0.5% qoq, while Tokyo's 18 wards and Yokohama maintained stable rents. Chiba continued to face challenges, with vacancy rising from 8.0% to 10.8%, and rents falling 1.1% qoq.
- The limited new supply in Tokyo's 5 wards in 2024 supports rents and occupancy, but the projected increase in supply in 2025 may soften the market. In Yokohama and Chiba, a prolonged period is expected for supply and demand to reach a new equilibrium.

Seoul Office – Market Overview

Market remained resilient in 3Q 2024. New supply expected from 2026 with most of it concentrated in the CBD

Map of Major Office Submarkets

- The Seoul office market comprises three core business districts: CBD, GBD (where The Pinnacle Gangnam is located) and YBD. Most of the office stock is in the CBD, followed by GBD and YBD.
- Located in Gangnam-gu, Seoul, The Pinnacle Gangnam is a 20-storey freehold office building with six underground floors and 181 parking lots. It has direct access to an underground subway station (Gangnam-gu Office Station) and is within 10 minutes by car from Gangnam’s high-end retail district (Cheongdam) and from COEX Convention & Exhibition Center.

- South Korea’s 3Q 2024 GDP growth moderated to 1.5% yoy from 2.3% in 2Q 2024. On a qoq seasonally-adjusted basis, GDP expanded 0.1%. Growth was weaker than expected amid a decline in exports despite a rebound in consumer spending from a quarter earlier.
- Seoul’s Grade A office market recorded an increase in vacancy from 2.4% in 2Q 2024 to 2.8% in 3Q 2024, mostly due to the relocation of several conglomerates and tech companies out of the GBD and CBD. Despite this increase, vacancy remains well below the 5% natural vacancy rate, and this trend is expected to continue until major supply additions in 2026. Rental rates in Seoul demonstrated resilience, with overall rents rising 2.0% qoq in Q3 2024. The GBD recorded a 3.9% rental growth over the same period.
- Looking ahead, Seoul’s landlord-favoured market may face readjustment when new supply enters the market from 2026. The CBD is expected to experience the most substantial impact as it accounts for approximately 88% of the new supply.
