SGX Stock Exchange welcomes Mi Material Holding Limited to Mainboard

SGX Stock Exchange congratulates Mi Material Holding Limited (Mi Material) on its listing on Mainboard under stock code “MIM”.

Headquartered in Singapore, Mi Material is a leading manufacturer of semiconductor advanced packaging materials. The company specialises in solder balls and solder powder – critical components used in semiconductor packaging applications. With operations in Tainan, Taiwan, as well as Ningbo and Hangzhou, China, Mi Material supports a wide range of applications, including artificial intelligence, high-performance computing, high-bandwidth memory, mobile devices and automotive electronics. Mi Material is among the top three solder sphere suppliers worldwide and operates as the semiconductor materials arm of Mi Technovation Berhad listed in Malaysia.

Kevin Tan, CEO, Mi Material Holding Limited, said, “Today’s SGX Mainboard’s listing is a defining milestone for Mi Material. For nearly three decades, we have partnered customers across the semiconductor industry, using material innovation to solve increasingly complex manufacturing and advanced packaging challenges. As artificial intelligence, high-performance computing and next-generation electronics drive demand for advanced materials, we are well positioned to capture future growth opportunities through our proprietary technologies, long-standing customer relationships and proven record of innovation. We remain committed to innovation, operational excellence and creating sustainable long-term value for our shareholders and stakeholders.”

Pol de Win, Head of Global Sales and Origination, SGX Group, said, “As artificial intelligence and advanced electronics accelerate, the global semiconductor supply chain requires high-precision materials to support the performance of next-generation chips. Mi Material’s decision to list on SGX Stock Exchange highlights our role as a trusted capital hub for sector-leading technology companies. This listing gives them the platform to scale their regional manufacturing footprint and power the next wave of global tech innovation.”

Mi Material Holding Limited opened at S$1.80 today.
