ANNOUNCEMENT

WILMAR RELEASES SUSTAINABILITY REPORT 2013

Wilmar International Limited ("Wilmar") is pleased to announce the issue of its third Sustainability Report. 2013 marked a significant milestone in Wilmar's journey towards sustainability, when Wilmar announced its commitment to an integrated policy of "No Deforestation, No Peat and No Exploitation" ("Integrated Policy") in an effort to accelerate the market transformation for responsible palm oil. This ground-breaking Integrated Policy expands Wilmar's long-standing sustainability commitments to cover its entire palm oil supply chain.

As with its first two Sustainability Reports for 2009 and 2011, Wilmar has again invited Dr Gary Paoli, a biodiversity conservation expert who has a deep understanding of the palm oil industry, to provide an opinion on the materiality and responsiveness of Wilmar's Integrated Policy. In his commentary in Wilmar's 2013 Sustainability Report, Dr Paoli said "In the commentary I provided on Wilmar's 2009 and 2011 Sustainability Reports, I highlighted Wilmar's leadership in applying sustainability principles to palm oil production, while emphasizing growing stakeholder concerns over the impact of Wilmar's downstream supply chain. These trends intensified markedly during 2013" and "culminated in December 2013 with the announcement of Wilmar's landmark Integrated Policy. The transformative potential of the Policy is hard to overstate, reflecting Wilmar's size and its commitment to continuous improvement and transparent governance."

Wilmar's Sustainability Report 2013 adopts the internationally-recognised Global Reporting Initiative ("GRI") reporting guidelines. The GRI is the leading international guideline for sustainability reporting. KPMG performed assurance work on the 2013 Sustainability Report.
