Mr. Liang Chengwang (梁承旺), Executive Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Zixin Group, said, “We are truly blessed and thankful that we are spared as super Typhoons Saola and Haikui swept through Fujian Province, China. However, the intense rain from Typhoon Haikui resulted in floods and waterlogging, which brought activities in cities in Fujian Province to a halt.

Although there will be certain disruptions in our transportation logistics, we do not expect any material impact on our financial performance for the financial year ending 31 March 2024 as the peak season for us usually begins in October.

Our contracted farmlands of sweet potatoes will be ready for harvest in October, when we will conduct a trial run together with the third-party operators on their newly installed equipment and machinery, including an automated sweet potato sorting machine, at their cold storage warehouse and sweet potato waste recycling facilities. We look forward to piloting our integrated circular economy industrial value chain business model with the complementary industries in Liancheng County, Fujian Province starting this October.”

Zixin Group places strong emphasis on employees' health, safety, and well-being, and it will continue to take precautionary measures to ensure all members of Zixin Group are well-prepared against any natural calamities. Zixin Group believes that keeping employees safe and healthy is important to the sustainability and continuity of its organisation. Regular training and safety drills are carried out at least twice a year to ensure that employees' response capacities to natural disasters such as typhoons and wildfires are up to date. The workforce is also educated on the necessary supplies required for sheltering or evacuating from natural disasters, particularly food, water, personal protective equipment, sanitiser, and disinfectants.

The Company will make further announcements to update shareholders as and when appropriate.
