- (2) CBRE's Frankfurt office market occupancy as at 3Q 2022 was 92.1%.

Timing Gap between NPI and Distributable Income Contribution; Expected to Narrow by 2Q 2023

As at 30 Sep 2022

	Actual Occupancy	Committed Occupancy
Asia Square Tower 2	83.8%	99.5%
Six Battery Road	74.0%	91.2%
CapitaSpring ⁽¹⁾	84.8%	99.9%
Capital Tower	76.8%	90.7%

- Actual occupancies are lower than the committed for the four properties shown above as there are some tenants who are fitting out their offices and have not commenced operations.
- Due to accounting treatment, rental income for key leases are recognised on a straight-line basis from the onset of lease commencement, including fit-out period. This net property income recorded during fit-out period will not contribute to distributable income.
- Once rent payment commences, it will be reflected in the distributable income. As such, the distribution income is expected to materialise gradually from late 2022, and more substantively in FY 2023.

Note:

(1) Contribution from CapitaSpring is via distribution from joint venture.

Office

- Strong positive office net absorption (0.56m sq ft) in 3Q 2022, surpassing the total take-up (0.32m sq ft) for the whole of 2021.
- Key demand drivers are expansions by tech firms, flexible workspace operators and non-banking financial companies.
- CBRE Research expects return-to-office demand to drive Core CBD (Grade A) rents to a full-year growth of 8% to 9% in 2022.
- Rental growth for 2023 is likely to remain positive due to the limited new supply beyond 2023 and barring a sustained recession.

Retail

- Leasing activity started to pick up in 3Q 2022 with demand primarily driven by F&B operators. Retail rents for Orchard Road, City Hall/Marina Centre and Fringe areas registered nascent recovery in 3Q 2022. The suburban market continued to outperform.
- CBRE Research expects overall retail rents to continue recovering for the rest of 2022 and into 2023.

- GDP is expected to grow 1.3% in 2023. This is a significant downward revision compared to the Spring Forecast, due to the deterioration of the outlook for global trade and the loss of purchasing power, which weigh on business and consumer confidence.
- CPI is expected to be around 7.9% for 2022 before starting to decline in 2023, forecasted to be 4.8%.
