IXOM appoints Chief Executive Officer

Melbourne – IXOM has appointed Bryce Wolfe as Chief Executive Officer (CEO).

Bryce was the Interim CEO of IXOM since 2 June 2023, and prior to that, the Finance Director & Chief Financial Officer since joining the company in 2014.

His deep industry expertise and experience in managing complex and global organisations, along with his strong commitment to safety and focus on people, will enable IXOM to continue to chart a strong growth path.

Andrew Larke, Chairman of IXOM, said, “The Board trusts Bryce’s strong leadership, and commitment and vision to deliver long term value and growth for the company. Under his leadership, alongside the management team, I am confident that IXOM will continue to invest in its key infrastructure assets and leverage its supply chain capabilities to support our core markets.”

Prior to joining IXOM, Bryce held various executive positions at Village Roadshow Limited and Village Roadshow Entertainment Group, as well as Ernst & Young in London, Los Angeles and Melbourne.
