5. If there are any changes in the accounting policies and methods of computation, including any required by an accounting standard, what has changed, as well as the reasons for, and the effect of, the change.

The Group has adopted the new and revised Singapore Financial Reporting Standards ("FRS") and Interpretations of FRS ("INT FRS") that are relevant to its operations and effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2014.

The adoption of new/revised FRS and INT FRS does not result in any substantial changes to the Group's accounting policies, and has no material effect on the amounts reported for the current or prior periods.

The Company's estimated useful lives of its tank trucks were 5 years for the most recent audited financial statements for the financial year ended 31 December 2013. Effective from 1 January 2014, the Directors of the Company have revised the said estimated useful lives to 3 years, after considering the expected intensive physical wear and tear. The impact of this change in estimate is a prospective increase in the annual depreciation charge of approximately RMB1.0 million, resulting in a decrease in profit after taxation for the year of approximately RMB0.8 million.

6. If earnings per ordinary share of the group for the current financial period reported on and the corresponding period of the immediately preceding financial year, after deducting any provision for preference dividends.

Statement of comprehensive income of the Group for 1H2014 compared to 1H2013

Revenue

The Group's revenue increased by 104.2% or RMB54.6 million from RMB52.4 million in 1H2013 to RMB107.0 million in 1H2014.

The increase was due to the additional revenue of RMB61.6 million from the Group's transportation services segment arising from the various long-distance-service projects kicked off last quarter of FY2013.

However, the increase was partially offset by the decline of RMB7.0 million revenue from the Group's storage service segment. The decrease was mainly due to:

(a) some clients switching to spot leases in view of the uncertain and relatively weak economy;

(b) the change of product mix which the storage volume for products with higher storage fee, such as phenol, ethylene glycol and xylene dropped in 1H2014; and

(c) the ongoing decline in storage fees in the increasing competitive market along Yangtze River downstream region.

Cost of sales

In line with the higher revenue, the Group's cost of sales increased by RMB57.9 million from RMB33.0 million in 1H2013 to RMB90.9 million in 1H2014.

The increase in cost of sales was mainly due to the increase in cost of sales of RMB58.7 million from the Group's transportation services segment in line with higher revenue. The higher cost of sales was mainly because of the additional vehicles leased since last quarter of FY2013, as well as the depreciation charged on new tank trucks purchased during the last quarter of FY2013.

The increase was partially offset by the reduced cost of sales for the storage segments amounting to RMB0.8 million. The decrease were mainly due to the lower energy consumption resulted from less steam used for heating phenol since phenol's storage dropped in 1H2014 as compared to 1H2013, as well as decreased jetty usage fees charged by the third party jetty operator due to lower throughput in 1H2014..

Gross profit

As a result of the above, the Group's gross profit decreased by 17.2% or RMB3.3 million from RMB19.4 million in 1H2013 to RMB16.1 million in 1H2014.

	Storage		Transportation		Total

The overall gross profit margin declined to 15.0% in 1H2014 as compared to 37.1% in 1H2013 as the above-mentioned higher costs eroded margins. Administrative expenses

The Group's administrative expenses increased by 16.4% or RMB2.1 million from RMB12.7 million in 1H2013 to RMB14.8 million in 1H2014. This was mainly due to:

(a) higher manpower and travelling expenses due to the Group's business development and expansion plans;

(b) land use tax incurred by the Group's PRC subsidiaries; and

(c) the professional fee in relation to the ISO accreditation and safety standardization courses in 1H 2014.

Net profit (loss)

As a result of the above, the Group's net profit decreased by 96.7% or RMB1.477 million from RMB1.527 million in 1H2013 to RMB50,000 in 1H2014.

The increase of RMB145.2 million was mainly due to the additional cost incurred for the construction of development projects amounting to RMB151.9 million, and the additional cost incurred for the tank facilities amounting RMB6.8 million. The increase was partially offset by the depreciation and amortization charged in the current financial period.

10. A commentary at the date of the announcement of the significant trends and competitive conditions of the industry in which the group operates and any known factors or events that may affect the group in the next reporting period and the next 12 months.

In the midst of an uncertain and relatively weak economy in China, the present business environment continues to remain challenging. While the Group's project phases are still in progress, the Group shall take a more prudent approach in assessing new project developments and continue to improve its operational efficiency and cost reduction measures.

At the beginning of 2014, the Chinese government has called for the development of "golden waterway" along the Yangtze River through creating an economic belt to connect the more developed eastern areas to the central and western parts of China. The timely construction of its three new petrochemical storage plants in Wuhan (Hubei province), Yueyang (Hunan province) and Chongqing municipality along the "golden waterway" has enabled the Group to seize more business opportunity coming along the way. The Group believes its early entry into the growing inland petrochemical market will help it gain first mover advantage and allow it to tap on the emerging demand for petrochemical transportation and storage services.

To provide higher value for its customer base, the Group continues to explore opportunities to bundle its transportation and storage services together for existing and potential clients. This will allow the Group to be a more comprehensive logistics service provider in the petrochemical sector as compared to its competitors.

In June 2014, the Company's subsidiary, Hengyang Holding Pte. Ltd. injected another USD6 million share capital into Wuhan Hengyang Chemical Logistics Co., Ltd.. The freshly injected fund will be used to expedite the completion of the project.

Upon the completion of the initial phases of its projects over the next one or two years, the Group expects to more than triple its storage capacity from 265,600 cubic meters to approximately 962,600 cubic meters along the Yangtze River.

While the long-term prospects look promising, the Group expects the business environment during the year to remain challenging.
