Secura Awarded Major National Heritage Board Security Contract, Marking a New Era of Technology-Enabled Security for Singapore's Cultural Institutions

SINGAPORE - 17 March 2026 - Secura Group Limited (“Secura”) is pleased to announce that its subsidiary Soverus Pte Ltd., has been awarded a S$12.9 million contract by the National Heritage Board (“NHB”) for the provision of comprehensive security services across a network of national museums and heritage institutions. The contract is for a three-year term commencing from 1 April 2026 and ending 31 March 2029. This contract marks a significant milestone for the Group and reinforces its position as a provider of technology-enabled security solutions for public sector institutions.

Technology-Enabled Security Ecosystem for Heritage Institutions

Under the contract, Secura will introduce an integrated, technology-led security ecosystem that represents a step-change from traditional manpower-heavy deployments. The solution brings together AI-supported surveillance, digital deterrence platforms and its 24/7 command centre oversight, with manpower supporting the operational areas where human judgement and presence remain essential. This balanced approach enhances situational awareness, improves response coordination and streamlines verification processes through automation. It also reflects Secura’s continued progress in strengthening its technology capabilities and evolving towards more efficient, scalable security delivery across public-sector environments.

Commenting on the contract win, Barry Kan, Chief Executive Officer of Secura, said: “This award is an important milestone for the Group. It reflects NHB’s trust in our ability to deliver a modern, intelligence-driven security programme for Singapore’s cultural institutions. We are honoured to support NHB in safeguarding our national heritage and look forward to contributing our integrated security capabilities to this meaningful mission.”

This latest win adds to Secura's portfolio of public-sector engagements and reinforces the Group's position as a trusted security partner supporting critical national institutions.

The contract is expected to contribute positively to the Group's earnings per share and net asset value per share for the financial year ending 31 December 2026.
