Update on the Security Situation in the North of Israel

The Board of Directors of The Trendlines Group Ltd. ("Trendlines" or the "Company" and, together with its subsidiaries and associated companies, the "Group") wishes to update on Trendlines' business activities in light of the security situation in the north of Israel.

During the last week the security situation in Israel's north escalated. At the moment we are working as usual. As was the case previous to this, some portfolio company employees who live in the far north have relocated. One of our portfolio companies has taken a space in our offices until they can move back to theirs. We are equipped to help any other of our portfolio companies in similar situations.

Both Trendlines and our portfolio companies closely monitor the evaluations and instructions from Israel's Home Front Command regarding the security situation and make decisions accordingly. Drawing on our preparations and adaptations in the Covid period, we are well-positioned and prepared to work remotely when needed, and our portfolio companies are also well-trained in making contingency plans to keep running despite the situation.

Due to the developing situation in the north, some of the portfolio company's CEOs may be called up for reserve duty. In any such cases, Trendlines assists to evaluate the impact in each incidence and puts plans in place to cover and assist so as to minimize the impact.

Additionally, flight cancellations, disruptions and higher-priced tickets may interfere with planned trips abroad to participate in conferences or investor meetings.

The Company will update on any events that differ from the above.
