② Strategic Entry into the Growing Tech Hub of Nashville

- The Nashville-Davidson-Murfreesboro Core Based Statistical Area (Nashville CBSA) is located on the Cumberland River in north central Tennessee between Knoxville and Memphis and is the largest metro area in the state
- Nashville was ranked as the second hottest job market in 2019 by the Wall Street Journal and according to the Brookings Institute, Nashville has had more job growth in advanced industries since the recession than any other metro area in the country
- Continued in-migration and capital investments from businesses have resulted in commercial real estate reaping the benefits with low vacancy and rising rental rates
- The thousands of new jobs created have lured new residents to the region, making Nashville one of the fastest growing metropolitan areas in the US. Amazon, for example, is investing US$230m in Nashville and adding 5,000 jobs at its new operations site at Nashville Yards in downtown Nashville
- As new businesses flock to the region, Nashville's national profile was raised and sustained its status as the top performer in Tennessee and leading position among its peer cities

2 Highly Desirable Brentwood Submarket

- Brentwood features some of Nashville's highest quality properties with the most commercial property positioned between Old Hickory Boulevard and Murray Lane along the I-65 corridor
- The Brentwood submarket is supported by a variety of demand generators, such as desirable “lifestyle” amenities, a highly skilled labor force, and proximity to I-65, Vanderbilt University and the Cool Springs Galleria Super Regional Mall
- Brentwood continues to be one of Nashville's major suburban office nodes and is located on the fast-growing and affluent southern side of the metro
- According to CoStar's June 2021 report⁽¹⁾, 4- & 5-star rent in the Brentwood submarket has grown by about 25.7% since 2015 with vacancies averaging 6.6% over the same period
- Brentwood office market has historically maintained above average occupancy and rent levels for the Nashville metro area with current occupancy levels above 90%

Brentwood submarket – Asking Rent (US$ psf) and Vacancy (%)

② Bridge Crossing – Amenity Rich Location in Maryland Farms

- Bridge Crossing is located on the south side of Maryland Way, 1.5-miles southwest of the Interstate 65 interchange at Old Hickory Boulevard
- The local area is in the growth stage of its life cycle with stable population and household growth trends, as well as significantly above average household income levels
- Maryland Farms was developed in the early 1980's as a professional office park and has since grown to approximately 5,000,000 square feet including office, hospitality, retail and residential components
- The largest office park in Brentwood, Maryland Farms, is located just south of Old Hickory Boulevard (SR-254) along Maryland Farms Way and Virginia Way and includes several other side streets

2 Deepen Presence in Denver with Second Asset

- Denver's growth drivers are mainly attributable to strong infrastructure, high quality of life, favorable demographics and consistent population growth
- The region benefits from a comparatively higher educated workforce and moderate business costs, relative to the nation
- Denver's central location in the western US, the presence of large research universities, and its attractive demographic characteristics helps in attracting new businesses, particularly tech-heavy industries which seek out the area's large and growing pool of talented workers
- Cushman and Wakefield expect continued in-migration of office-using firms and employees in Denver in the near term. The area will continue to benefit from growing tech companies, creating a synergy among office space users

② Strong Fundamentals for Northwest Denver Submarket

- Northwest Denver is the fourth largest submarket in Denver with approximately 7.7m sf of rentable office space
- Due to its location between Denver and Boulder, and connectivity through US Highway 36, this submarket is an attractive alternative for tenants looking outside of Denver’s urban core and the pricier Boulder market
- The submarket is supported by a variety of demand generators, such as desirable “lifestyle” amenities and a highly skilled labor force
- Limited new supply in the submarket due to strict growth limits and prohibitive construction costs, which continue to drive demand for existing inventory. There have been no new speculative office properties in the market
- Average asking rents for Class A office in Northwest Denver submarket have increased from $24.2 psf in 2016 to $26.6 psf in 1Q 2021

Northwest Denver Submarket – Class A Asking Rent (US$ psf) and Vacancy (%)

2 105 Edgeview – Prime Location in Interlocken

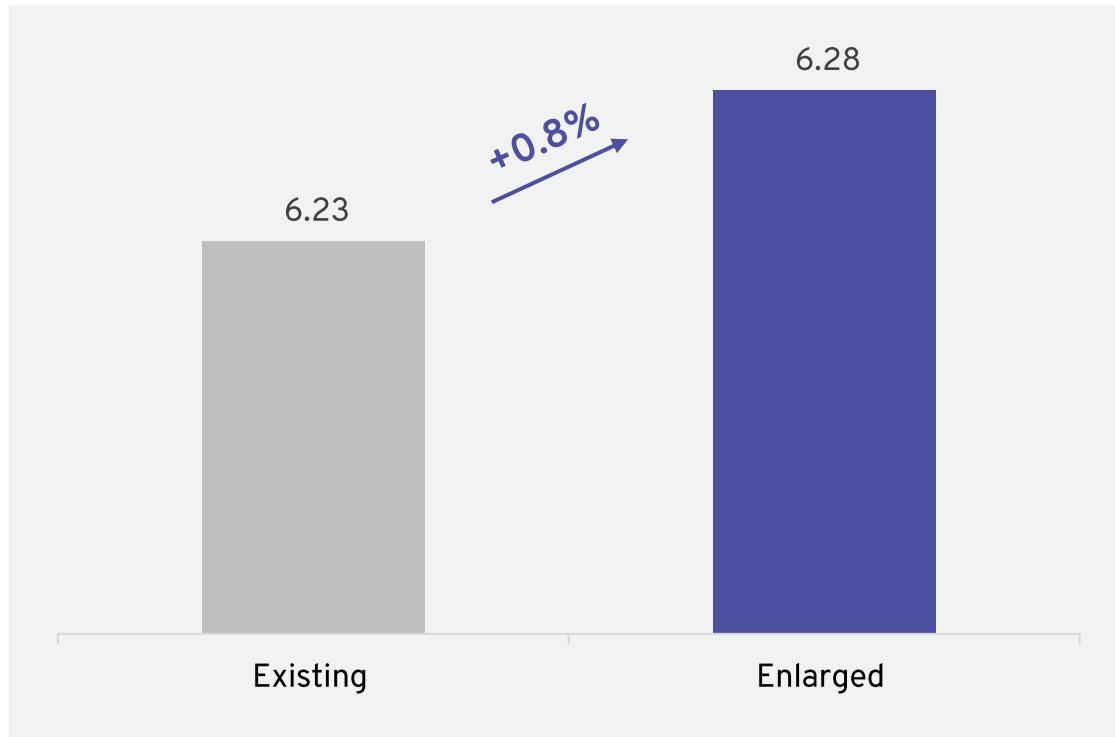

- 105 Edgeview is located within the 963-acre Interlocken Advanced Technology Campus, in the northwest sector of the Denver Metropolitan Area (DMA) in the City of Broomfield, which is approximately 13 miles northwest of Denver CBD
- Interlocken Advanced Technology campus is a premier business park which attracts high-profile tech firms wishing to locate along US Highway 36, between Denver and Boulder in proximity to a strong research and development environment
- The local area is a highly desirable residential community consisting of a high-income neighbourhood with plenty of single family and multifamily options for residents. Flatiron Crossing Mall is located 1.7 miles northwest of the property, offering a variety of amenities
- 105 Edgeview is strategically located 0.5 miles north of Interlocken Loop, a main arterial that intersects the Denver-Boulder Turnpike to the southeast
