SGX appoints new Head of Global Sales and Origination

Singapore Exchange (SGX) today announced the appointment of Mr Pol de Win as Senior Managing Director, Head of Global Sales and Origination (GSO), effective 1 July 2021. Mr de Win will succeed the current Head of GSO, Mr Chew Sutat who will be retiring from the company on 31 July 2021.

Mr de Win has extensive experience in capital markets advisory and execution of financial services sector transactions across Asia, Europe and the US. Prior to joining SGX, he was Managing Director with Goldman Sachs in Hong Kong, heading Southeast Asia Financial Institutions and Fintech (Asia ex-Japan). Mr de Win holds a Master of Science degree from Erasmus University Rotterdam.

Mr Chew joined SGX in June 2007 and in his fourteen years with SGX, made significant contributions in a range of leadership positions that saw the exchange transform from the Asian gateway into a global multi-asset exchange.

Mr Loh Boon Chye, Chief Executive Officer of SGX, said, "Sutat has been a valuable colleague and member of the SGX executive management team over the years, pioneering platforms and products that are a key feature of SGX's business today. We would like to thank him for his leadership, service and commitment in elevating the significance of our capital markets, and along with it the expansion of SGX's international business."

"As we enter a new growth stage, we are pleased to welcome Pol to SGX. He adds perspective and experience honed from a vast network of relationships with regional issuers, global investors and major exchanges. With Pol's leadership, we look forward to broadening and deepening the businesses Sutat and the team have built," added Mr Loh.
