ANNOUNCEMENT

UPDATE ON WILMAR'S CHINA OPERATIONS

The Company wishes to announce that the current outbreak of the 2019 novel coronavirus (2019-nCoV) has not significantly affected its operations in China to-date.

The Company operates more than 350 plants in 65 locations in China. There are nine plants in two locations in Wuhan. These are currently shut down for the Chinese New Year/Spring Festival holidays. We are waiting for instructions from the Chinese Government when we can commence operations. We have sufficient inventory to meet normal demand and are working closely with our suppliers and distributors to ensure a steady supply of products.

For the time being, we do not expect any significant impact to our business.

All our employees in China are safe and we will continue to monitor the situation closely.

Further announcements will be made by the Company if there is a significant change in impact to the Company.
