This process would be repeated periodically over the period of a few months. If a customer still fails to settle his outstanding invoices despite these reminders, the matter would be escalated to our sales manager and also our Chief Executive Officer, Mr Lin Shaoxiong. Either of them would personally visit the customer to ask for settlement. If payment is still not received after the meeting, our Group would issue a demand letter for payment. Thereafter, if necessary, we would instruct lawyers to issue a letter of demand on our behalf.

In order to strengthen our collection policy on long due trade receivables that we have request our existing customers to pay off at least 60% of the outstanding amount and 80% from new customers due in immediate previous quarter before delivery of goods and payment have to follow our repayment schedule set for each individual customers since 3Q2015 and such collection policy have been strictly implemented in 4Q2015.
