+4.1% year-on-year[1]	+3.9% year-on-year[1]	+2.7% year-on-year[1]

- U.S. retail sales rose by 0.6% in June from the previous month, recovering from a sharp 0.9% decline in May. Consumer spending increased across multiple sectors, with car dealerships posting one of the strongest gains, up a solid 1.2%[2]
- Retail sales reached US$4.2 trillion for the first half of 2025, marking a 3.6% y-o-y increase, reflecting consumer resilience despite ongoing uncertainties and wavering consumer confidence levels. Underscoring June's uptick wasn't just a blip, the U.S. Census Bureau reported seasonally-adjusted retail sales from April through June advanced 4.1% y-o-y, signaling unexpected strength in consumer demand[3]

U.S. Market Update

Favourable Outlook for Grocery-Anchored Strip Centers

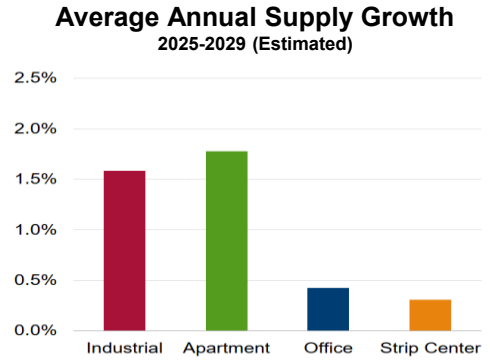

Resilient Foot Traffic Underscores Strip Center Strength

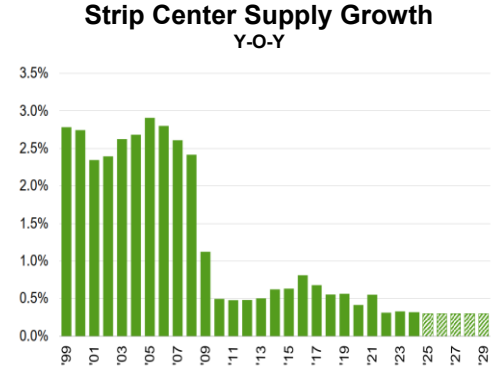

Strip center foot traffic has remained resilient year-to-date, trailing 'A' malls by only a narrow margin. April 2025 was particularly strong across retail formats, supported by a favorable calendar shift (Easter fell in April rather than March) and potentially forward-pulled consumer purchases ahead of anticipated tariff-related price hikes

Limited New Supply Creates Tailwind for Strip Centers

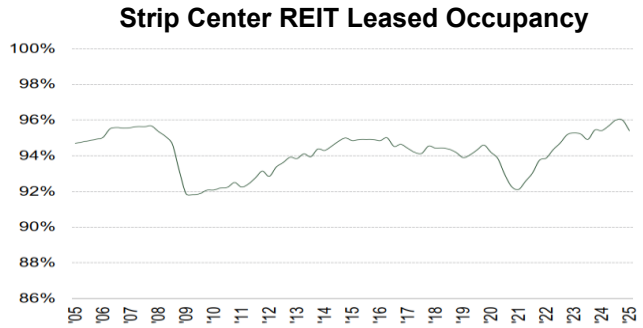

New supply in the sector has been limited since the great financial crisis and is expected to remain limited as prevailing rent levels often do not justify the returns required for new developments. Recent tariff announcements and tighter restrictions on immigration have added uncertainty to construction costs, further discouraging new developments. Strip center annual supply growth is expected to trail all traditional sectors over the next five years, a significant tailwind for strip centers

Top-Tier Retail Space Remains in High Demand

With REIT leased occupancy in the high-95% range, the sector remains highly occupied—reinforcing retailers' perception that space in top-tier centers is limited and highly sought after

Garden City Square – BJ's Wholesale Club, New York

1H 2025 Financial Results

Strong Financial Performance, 4.0% Growth in 1H 2025 DPU

- Gross revenue and net property income declined by 3.0% and 5.6% respectively, primarily due to the absence of contributions from three properties divested in August 2024 and January 2025
- Excluding these divestments, same-store gross revenue and net property income would have increased by 2.6% and 2.4% respectively
- Same-store gross revenue and net property income were higher, driven by the commencement of new leases and rental escalations from existing leases
- Overall, distributable income was higher, mainly due to reduced finance costs resulting from lower interest rates and lower borrowings, following partial loan repayments made using proceeds from the divestments

The Storefront Advantage in a Digital World

Omnichannel is the New Normal

According to a recent report by The Food Industry Association, over 90% of shoppers now engage in both in-store and online purchasing, highlighting the continued rise of omnichannel retailing. Key insights from the report include:

Technology Adoption: 92% of retailers are using technology, including AI, to personalize shopping or marketing experiences across both online and physical digital channels

Shift in Fulfillment Preferences: Curbside pickup has become more popular, with 31% of retailers reporting increased shopper usage, surpassing same-day home delivery, which declined to 29%[1]

Walmart Expands E-Commerce Edge with Dedicated Fulfillment Centers

Walmart is piloting the use of stores dedicated solely to fulfilling online orders and closed to the public

These stores are designed to enhance the speed and efficiency of Walmart's e-commerce operations, supporting the retailer's ongoing push to accelerate fulfillment capabilities. Leveraging its extensive store network and advanced technologies including drones, Walmart continues to innovate in last-mile delivery and streamline its omnichannel logistics[2]

Resiliency in Self-Storage and Strip Center Property Values

% Change in Green Street Commercial Property Price Index from June 2020 to June 2025

- Green Street Commercial Property Price Index is a time series of unleveraged U.S. commercial property values that captures the prices at which commercial real estate transactions are currently being negotiated and contracted
- With remote work arrangements here to stay post-pandemic, structural demand for offices is declining and continues to weigh heavily on sector valuations. Commercial property prices for the office sector has declined by 34% since June 2020
- On the other hand, the Strip Center sector has benefitted from the remote work arrangements trend as the additional flexibility has increased demand for the goods and services offered in Strip Centers, ranging from grocery shopping to dining. Strip Center sector values have increased 24% since June 2020
- Similarly, the Self-Storage sector has also benefitted from the work from home dynamic with values increasing by 34% since June 2020

UHREIT's Growth Driven by Multiple Drivers

Occupancy

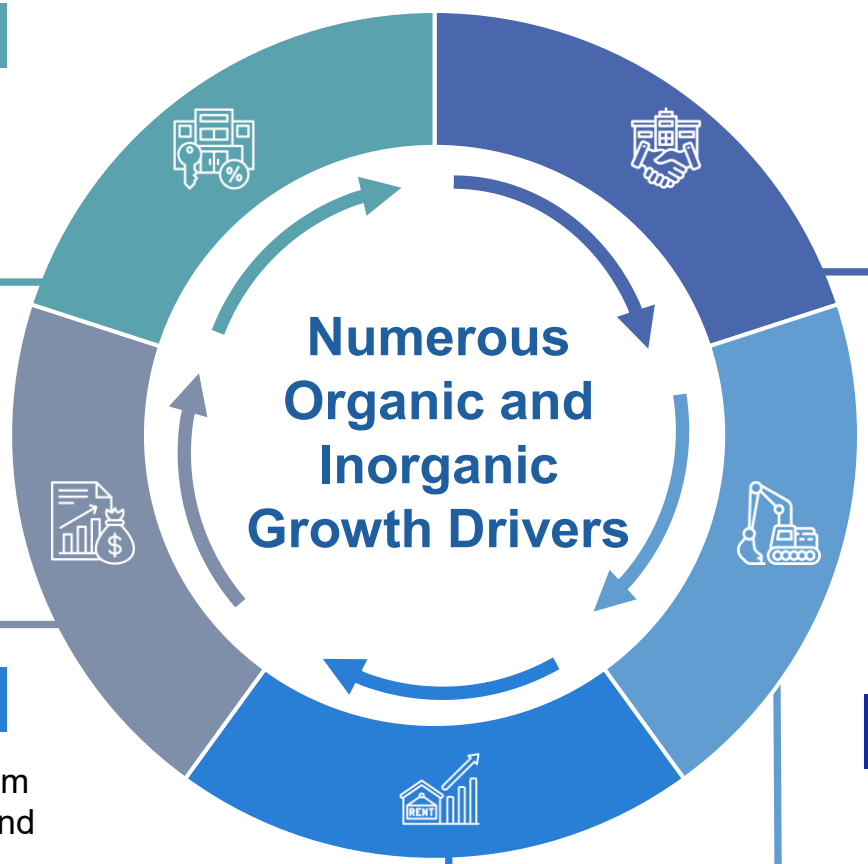

Improving portfolio occupancy to increase Revenue and NPI. Leases are largely triple net with tenants reimbursing their share of insurance, taxes and CAM

Contractual Rental Growth

Majority of leases have contractual built-in rental escalations, typically 5-10% every 5 or 10 years for anchors and 1 - 3% for inline tenants

Rent Growth from New Leases

Grocery & Necessity releasing spreads from new leases have been highly favourable and self-storage rental rates remain strong

Accretive Growth via Acquisitions

Pro-active Capital Recycling with four DPU accretive Acquisitions (US$180.4 million) and five Divestments (US$115.7 million)

Asset Enhancement and Development

Asset enhancement, development and asset repositioning initiatives

- ✓ Asset enhancement works for St. Lucie West expansion (55k Sq Ft) in 2021. This space is leased to Publix Supermarket
- ✓ Construction of 63k sq ft Academy Sports + Outdoors on existing land at Port St. Lucie. This new store opened ahead of schedule in November 2023
- ✓ New long-term lease agreement signed with Trader Joe's for Lynncroft, transforming the property into a Grocery-Anchored Center
