SGX Securities welcomes Leong Guan Holdings Limited to Catalist

SGX Securities today welcomed the listing of Leong Guan Holdings Limited to Catalist under the stock code “LGH”.

Leong Guan Holdings Limited (Leong Guan) is a leading food manufacturing and distribution company with over 22 years of expertise in the industry. The company specialises in producing fresh noodle and soy-based beancurd products, complemented by a wide range of food-related items. Serving more than 2,000 customers locally and internationally, their clientele includes Horeca establishments, retailers, schools, hospitals, and e-commerce platforms, as well as distributors and brand owners across Asia, Australia, North America, the Middle East and Europe.

Lim Tze Chiang, Executive Director and Chairman, Leong Guan Holdings Limited, said, “This listing milestone strengthens our ability to grow with passion, purpose and resilience. It reflects our confidence in the Group’s long-term growth. The funds raised will allow us to expand into new export markets, diversify our product offerings, upgrade our manufacturing facilities with sustainable and green initiatives, and pursue strategic acquisitions and joint venture partnerships to further scale our business.”

Koh Jin Hoe, Head of Capital Markets, Global Sales and Origination, SGX Group, said, “Leong Guan’s journey as a homegrown company to a listed enterprise exemplifies the bold vision and determination driving Singapore’s food manufacturing sector. At SGX, we champion businesses with the ambition and capability to lead in their industries, providing them access to capital and opportunities to scale. We look forward to partnering with Leong Guan as it grows its footprint and accelerates its expansion in the region.”

Leong Guan Holdings Limited opened at S$0.245 today.

About Leong Guan Holdings Limited

Leong Guan Holdings Limited (“Leong Guan”, the “Company”, and together with its subsidiaries, the “Group”) is a Singapore-based food manufacturing and distribution company, with over 22 years of experience in the food industry. The Group specialises in the manufacturing of fresh noodle products and soy bean-based beancurd products, as well as the trading of a wide range of food-related products. The Group supplies food products to local and export markets to its customer base of approximately more than 2,000 customers.

The Group's local customers comprise commercial customers and retail customers, including commercial establishments in the Horeca industry, including hotels, restaurants, caterers, food court stall operators, hawkers and kiosk, as well as schools and hospitals. The Group also sells its food products locally to retail customers which include brick and mortar retailers such as supermarkets and minimarts, as well as through third party e-commerce platforms.

The Group's revenue is generated from three main business segments, comprising:

1. Self-manufactured products – Products manufactured at the Group's own manufacturing facilities and delivered to customers primarily under the Group's own LG Brand. The Group's self-manufactured products are its core products principally comprising noodle products, soy bean-based beancurd products and wanton skins.
2. Trading products – Products manufactured by third party manufacturers, which are marketed and sold to customers under third party brands. The Group's trading products typically complement its self-manufactured products, and primarily comprise surimi, frozen food and beansprouts.
3. OEM products (White-label products) – Products manufactured by third party manufacturers, which are marketed and sold to customers under the Group's own LG Brand. The Group's OEM products comprise noodle products and soy-bean based beancurd products, which complement the Group's self-manufactured products.
