FIRST RESOURCES REAFFIRMS COMMITMENT TO ZERO-BURNING POLICY AND COOPERATION WITH RELEVANT AUTHORITIES

First Resources Limited ("First Resources" or the "Group") notes recent statements regarding the Singapore Government's intention to pursue all available legal and regulatory measures against companies linked to the current haze situation.

First Resources fully supports and welcomes a thorough, evidence-based examination of the facts surrounding the ongoing fires and haze situation. The Group remains committed to transparency and accountability and stands ready to cooperate fully with any inquiries or investigations conducted by the relevant authorities.

The Group maintains a longstanding Zero Burning Policy, which is strictly enforced across its operations and forms a core component of its sustainability commitments. We believe that any assessment of the source of fires should be based on verified facts, scientific evidence and a comprehensive understanding of the circumstances on the ground. In this regard, the Group welcomes not only documentary and technical reviews, but also on-the-ground verification where necessary to provide important context and support an accurate understanding of the situation.

First Resources stands ready to cooperate with the relevant authorities to provide all relevant facts and evidence. The Group is confident that an objective review of the available evidence will prove that it does not engage in any land clearing by fire, whether directly or indirectly. Such evidence may include the chronology of hotspot detections and fire progression based on satellite imagery, documentary evidence of the actions taken to suppress and extinguish fires, and spatial analyses demonstrating the continued protection of conservation areas.

The Group remains open to constructive suggestions from regulators, industry stakeholders, customers, investors and civil society organisations on how collective efforts to prevent and manage fires can be further strengthened. Addressing the complex challenge of transboundary haze requires sustained collaboration among governments, companies, local communities and other stakeholders.
