

UOB posts S$906 million in first quarter net profit Customer franchise and asset quality remains resilient

UOB Group (UOB) has posted S$906 million in net profit for the first quarter of 2022 (1Q22), down 11% quarter on quarter (QoQ), amid market volatilities.

The Group's customer franchise remained strong, with higher net interest income due to quality loan growth and disciplined pricing.

Total fees were flat QoQ. Loan-related fees hit a new high with 14% growth QoQ, but were offset by a decline in credit card, wealth management and fund management fees, which were affected by market sentiment. Trading and investment income saw a double-digit drop from impact on hedges as interest rates rose. As a result, total income dropped slightly by 3% to S$2.4 billion.

Credit costs in 1Q22 normalised to 19 basis points given the higher general allowance write-back in the previous quarter. The Group's asset quality and balance sheet stayed resilient with adequate level of liquidity. The Common Equity Tier 1 (CET1) ratio remained healthy at 13.1%.

Optimistic of the recovery of Southeast Asia

Mr. Wee Ee Cheong,
Deputy Chairman and
Chief Executive Officer, UOB

“ Geopolitical tensions and uncertainties on the global growth outlook have led to market volatilities. Despite that, our core businesses held up well, with quality loans growth, record loan-related fees and better margins.

We remain focused on supporting businesses to help them seize opportunities as borders reopen. The trade and investment corridors between ASEAN and China place us in a unique position to serve customers. The current disruptions to global supply chains will shore up the importance of the role of our region.

We are making good progress in our Citi integration and our digital initiatives. And our own green efforts and support for our customers to make positive impact are seeing results. We aim to announce our net zero plans by the end of this year.

We remain optimistic of the recovery of our region and the longer-term potential of Southeast Asia. With our strong balance sheet, backed by healthy capital and liquidity positions, we are well positioned to navigate these uncertain times together with our customers and the community. ”

1Q22 versus 4Q21

The Group reported net profit of S$906 million, 11% lower than the previous quarter, as geopolitical uncertainties led to lower non-customer-related trading and investment income, coupled with lower general allowance write-back.

Net interest income increased 1%, led by a 3% loan growth and two basis-point improvement in net interest margin to 1.58%. Net fee and commission income was largely flat at S$572 million, with strong demand for lending and advisory business propelling loan-related fees to grow 14% to a new high of S$194 million. However, this was tempered by seasonally lower credit card spend and lower wealth and fund management fees on the back of dampened market sentiment.

Customer-related treasury income grew 18%, as customers were keen to hedge their risk. However, this was more than offset by impact from hedges as interest rates rose and unrealised mark-to-market on investments. Therefore, other non-interest income fell 43% to S$101 million.

Total operating expenses decreased 3% in tandem with lower income. Hence, cost-to-income ratio held steady at 44.8%. Total allowance was 59% higher, mainly due to higher general allowance write-back in the previous quarter. As such, total credit costs on loans normalised to 19 basis points in 1Q22.

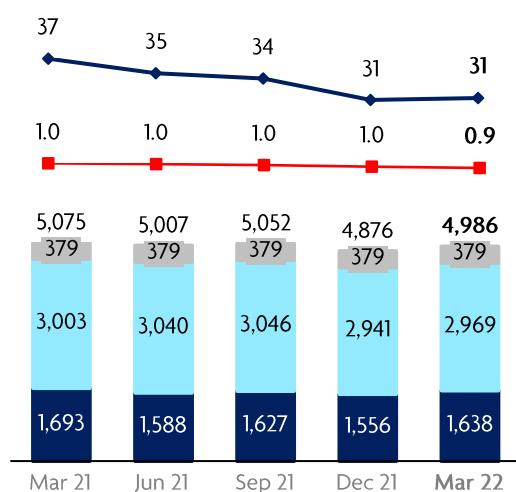

1Q22 versus 1Q21

Net interest income increased 10%, led by loan growth of 9%. Net fee and commission income declined 8%, largely due to lower wealth management and fund management as the market outlook this year is more subdued. Other non-interest income similarly decreased from impact on hedges, resulting in lower non-customer-related trading and investment income, although customer-related treasury income was stable.

Total operating expenses was 3% lower in line with lower income. Total allowance fell 11% on lower general allowances, with total credit costs on loans being 10 basis points lower.

Asset quality

Allowance coverage

Asset quality remained resilient with the non-performing loan (NPL) ratio stable at 1.6%. Total credit costs at 19 basis points were in line with expectations.

Allowance coverage remained adequate with non-performing assets (NPA) coverage at 94% or 216% after taking collateral into account. The performing loans reserve buffer was maintained prudently at 0.9%.

CET1 ratio eased to 13.1%, largely from asset growth as the Group continues to support its customers to meet their financial needs.
