Net Sales

Net sales for FY2021 increased by 38% compared to FY2020. Net sales for the second half year of FY2021 increased by 23% compared to the second half year of FY2020. The increase was due mainly to revenue from new products launched in the current and previous financial year. In addition, the on-going work from home arrangements, home-based learning and other COVID-19 restrictive measures have also continued to contribute to the increase in sales of the Group's products.

Growth in revenue in FY2021 was across all regions. Sales in the Americas, Europe and Asia Pacific regions increased by 64%, 45% and 19% respectively, compared to FY2020.

The increase in selling, general and administrative expenses was due mainly to higher sales and marketing expenses with the higher level of sales.

Research and development expenses in the second half year and full year of FY2021 increased by 10% and 9% respectively, compared to the same periods in the corresponding year due mainly to an increase in spending on product development.

Other income of US$0.9 million and US$2.2 million in the second half year and full year of FY2021, and US$1.6 million in the second half year and full year of FY2020, relates to grant income pertaining to COVID-19 relief packages.

Other losses (net) of US$1.9 million in the second half year of FY2021 were due mainly to exchange loss of US$2.0 million. Other losses (net) of US$1.1 million in the second half year of FY2020 were due mainly to fair value loss on financial assets at FVPL of US$1.2 million.

Other gains (net) of US$1.0 million in FY2021 were due mainly to foreign exchange gain of US$0.8 million. Other losses (net) of US$1.1 million in FY2020 were due mainly to US$0.9 million of fair value loss on financial assets at FVPL and foreign exchange loss of US$0.3 million.

The functional currency of the Company and its subsidiaries is predominantly the US dollar and accordingly, gains and losses resulting from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the US dollar are reflected in the determination of net income (loss). The exchange differences were due mainly to the cash and cash equivalent balances held by the Group. Cash and cash equivalents were held mainly in US dollar and Singapore dollar, with the balance mainly in Euro, British Pound and Japanese Yen. The exchange loss in the second half year of FY2021 was due mainly to the depreciation of Singapore dollar, Japanese Yen and Euro against the US dollar. The exchange difference in the second half year of FY2020 was not material. The exchange loss in FY2020 was due mainly to depreciation of Singapore dollar, Euro and British Pound against the US dollar.

BALANCE SHEETS

The decrease in cash and cash equivalents was due to net cash used in operating activities (see below). The increase in financial assets at FVOCI was due mainly to fair value gain on revaluation. The decrease in property and equipment was due mainly to land and building, which was sold subsequent to FY2021, being reclassified to property and equipment held for sale. The decrease in right-of-use assets was due mainly to depreciation expense for the year. The lower trade receivables were in line with the higher contributions from online sales towards the end of FY2021. The higher inventory balance in FY2021 is in line with the increased level of sales during the year. As at 30 June 2020, the lower inventory balance compared to FY2021 was due to higher level of sales towards the end of that year. The decrease in other creditors, accrued liabilities and provisions was due mainly to decrease in deferred grant income pertaining to the COVID-19 relief packages and decrease in legal claims and fees. The decrease in lease liabilities was due mainly to lease repayment during the year. The decrease in share capital by US$217.7 million as at 30 June 2021 compared to 30 June 2020 was due to the capital reduction exercise to reduce the share capital of the Company by cancellation of the share capital of the Company that has been lost or is unrepresented by available assets to the extent of the amount of the accumulated losses of the Company as at 30 June 2020.

16. PROSPECTS

The pace of economic recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic and the outlook for the global economy remain uncertain. The spread of the Delta variant of COVID-19 in many countries around the world has increased the level of uncertainty. In addition, market conditions have become more challenging in light of the supply chain disruptions caused by the global shortages of semiconductors, delay in shipping schedules due to port congestions and shortage of containers, and the skyrocketing increases in freight costs. The Group has begun to face shortages of certain products due to component unavailability, with spike in prices of some components, and has also experienced more frequent shipping disruptions. These are expected to have an impact on the Group's results in the current financial year. For the first half year and second half year of FY2022, the Group is targeting to maintain revenue at the current level and expects to report an operating loss.

In July 2021, a wholly-owned subsidiary in the United States has sold its property to an unrelated party for net proceeds of US$11.13 million. Net profit after tax from sale of the property of approximately US$9.1 million will be recognized by the Group in the first half year of FY2022.
