The Group reported revenue of S$129.1 million for FY2024, which was 4.2% higher year-on-year (“YoY”) due to higher construction activities in road works and cable laying projects. This was in line with the S$33.8 billion worth of preliminary construction demand reported in 2023 by the Building and Construction Authority (“BCA”), which exceeded the forecast of S$27 billion to S$32 billion in early 2023.¹

Gross profit increased by 28.9% YoY and gross profit margin expanded by 3.1 percentage points for FY2024. This was primarily attributed to the favourable project mix with more higher value construction activities being carried out.

On 14 March 2024, the Group completed its debt restructuring agreement ahead of the 31 March 2024 deadline. This gives Ley Choon better flexibility for capital expenditure planning and working capital management as it looks to capitalise on growth opportunities in the near-to mid-term.

The Group also recommended a final dividend of 0.27 Singapore cents for FY2024. Based on Ley Choon's closing price of 5.9 Singapore cents as of 24 May 2024, it offers an implied dividend yield of 4.6%.

Outlook

As of 31 March 2024, the Group reported an unfulfilled order book of S$258.5 million, which is roughly 2 times the revenue reported for FY2024. The amount will be progressively recognised over the next 24 to 36 months.

Looking ahead, the construction industry remains on an uptrend. BCA expects construction demand over the medium term to range between S$31 billion and S$38 billion per year from 2025 to 2028.²

Mr Toh Choo Huat (卓沭機), Executive Chairman and CEO of Ley Choon commented, “The underground utility infrastructure sector in Singapore remains favourable over the mid-term on the back of an ongoing replacement cycle at scale. As one of the key players in the industry, we are optimistic about replenishing and expanding our order book in the coming year.

Additionally, with the completion of our debt restructuring agreement in March 2024, we now have greater flexibility over our capital management to grow the business further. We have also taken the opportunity to reward our shareholders with our first dividend payout since 2014.”
