Query (vi)

What is the nature of the “contract liabilities” financial statement line item of approximately S$14,549,000 as at 31 January 2020?

The Group receives payments from customers who purchase or reload prepaid cards which are used to pay for the consumption of natural gas provided by the Group.

These payments received in advance are recognised as contract liabilities.

Query (vii)

We note that the Group has borrowings and debt securities as at 31 January 2020 of S$12,667,000 which are repayable in one year or less, or on demand, and S$10,332,000 which are repayable after one year.

(a) How does the Group intend to repay the amount of S$12,667,000?

Gas infrastructure is Capex intensive and the Group's China operations borrowed funds to finance its gas receiving stations, grid etc. Principal payments are made over-time. The S$12,667,000 represents the maturing principal due within 12 months, part of which would be paid from cash and the balance to be re-negotiated as part of the roll-over process.

(b) How much of the amount of S$12,667,000 is attributable to borrowings and debt securities which are repayable on demand? Further, what are the conditions or circumstances which would trigger repayment to be made on demand?

If interests and principal repayments are not made, it is possible this could trigger repayment to be made on demand.

(c) Please provide further information on whether the Company expects cash flow or liquidity issues with regard to the repayment of S$12,667,000, in light of the COVID-19 situation and its impact on the Company's business operations (if any). Please substantiate the Company's stand with specific details.

Where applicable, please elaborate on the matters set out in our Regulator's Column “What SGX expects of issuer's disclosures during COVID-19” dated 22 April 2020.

The Company does not expect cash flow or liquidity issues on the S$12,667,000 repayment in the light of COVID - 19 as explained in the vii(a) and (b). Its gas distribution business is an essential utility with a recurring cashflow and stable customer/subscriber base. Current operations are able to service its debt borrowings via its gas sales and installation fees. Due to the lock-down, lower gas sales to the Company's commercial and industrial customers is expected in Q4. However, as local residents spent more time indoors as part of the restrictions, gas sales for residential users is expected to increase compared with the previous period.

(d) In respect of the Group's secured long term borrowings of S$10,332,000, please clarify when these borrowings are due and how the Group intends to repay this amount.

In respect of the S$10,332,000 borrowings, S$655,000 is due in March 2022, S$4,269,000 is due in December 2022 and S$5,408,000 is due in August 2028.

The Group's natural gas business is an essential utility that is able to service its debt borrowings via its gas sales and installation fees.

Query (viii)

We note that the Group is in a negative working capital position. On page 7 of the announced results, the Company has stated that:- "The Board believes that going concern assumption of the Company and the Group still is appropriate. The COVID-19 situation had affected businesses and households globally. The Company and Group will make necessary arrangements to ensure that the Company and Group continues to meet liabilities when fall due."

(a) Please provide the Board assessment and its basis with regard to the Company and the Group's ability to operate as going concerns.

The Directors of the Company are of the view that the Company and the Group can continue to operate as a going concern based on the following assessment.

The Company is an investment holding Company whose ability to continue as a going-concern is based predominately on the performance of its three operating subsidiaries.

(i) Capri Investments L.L.C. ("Capri")

Capri has made substantial progress on and considerable investment in the Falling Water Plat/PDD since the Hearing Examiner's March 26, 2018 decision, which adopted a comprehensive set of milestone conditions for the project to meet in order to be eligible for further annual extensions ("Milestone Conditions"). Capri has met all Milestone Conditions for the project to date. As Milestone Conditions are met, Capri moves closer to development of its Falling Water Project Division 4. The COVID-19 situation has had limited impact on Capri, as engineers and consultants have been able to continue services by working remotely as per the proclamation of Governor Inslee.

Capri is 6 to 9 months away from being able to obtain all the regulatory requirements to commence land preparations for its 1st phase of Division 4. The US recovery following COVID-19 is still uncertain with businesses such a locally headquartered Boeing being adversely affected and a high unemployment rates throughout the country. The macro environment has a flow-on effect to local property markets.

(ii) ESA Electronics Pte Ltd (“ESA”)

Prior to the impacts of COVID-19, ESA results were impacted by the China-US trade war with weaker global demand. ESA continues to operate during the Circuit Breaker Temporary Measures as an essential service under the applicable laws and regulations. However, as to be expected, demand for ESA’s products is lower compared with the same period last financial year. ESA was eligible for assistance under the Job Support Scheme which has helped to offset its operating expenses.

As the global economy recovers, ESA will look to focus its efforts on customers in mainland China and Taiwan where economic recovery is already well underway. ESA has limited borrowings all of which are cash backed. China and Taiwan also form part of global supply chains and are therefore impacted by the speed by which the rest of the world recovers.

(iii) Hubei Zonglianhuan Energy Investment Management Inc. (“HZLH”)

HZLH’s gas sales to its industrial and commercial users had been disrupted due to the “lockdown” imposed by the Chinese. The “lockdown” took effect 23 January 2020, and was a precautionary measure taken by the Chinese government to contain the coronavirus. The staged lockdown restrictions began to ease in early April and the China operations began to normalize. Despite not being able to provide installation services for new customers during the lockdown, gas sales continued for existing residential users/subscribers.

HZLH is a privately owned public utility company which supplies natural gas under 30-year exclusive contracts with the cities of Anlu, Dawu, Xiaochang, and Guangshui all located in Hubei province. HZLH has a broad customer base consisting of both residential, commercial and industrial users.

Due to the up-front capital required for gas network infrastructure HZLH does have significant borrowings from local financial institutions. The People’s Bank of China have already reduced interest rates with cuts being passed on to HZLH. HZLH has good rapport with the local governments and its banks. Its banks are unlikely to “call-in” loans without a long notice period as this may cause disruption to civic services. Banks in the People’s Republic of China (“PRC”) do recognise such concession type arrangements as it is an increasing popular way for local governments to fund infrastructure projects. As such, the maturing principals due within 12 months can be successfully negotiated for further repayment terms with a longer tenure.

(b) Please also provide the Board’s assessment and its basis on the ability of the Company and the Group in meeting its short term debt obligations as and when they fall due.

The majority of short-term debt obligations are secured in nature either by cash or by Property, plant and equipment collaterals. The Board believes the operational cash flow is sufficient to meet payments when they fall due. Please see above viii(a) for further details on the Company’s and Group’s operating subsidiaries.

Query (ix)

It is stated on page 6 in relation to the transaction relating to employee share scheme:- “The Board through Management is in discussions with the previous auditors to facilitate access to prior years’ work papers to verify figures flowing from accounting treatments and adjustments made relating to the purported ESS. However, the Board and management continues to believe that the professional legal advice obtained supports the restatement made in the financial year ended 31 April 2018 (“FY2018”).”

Please elaborate on the professional legal advice which was obtained which supports the restatement made in FY2018.

On 3 August 2016, the Company received legal advice from Shanghai Shen Da (Wuhan) Law Firm with its key findings below:

(a) The equity transfer from China Environmental Energy Protection Investment Limited (“CEEP”) to He Shun was completed on 31 March 2015. CEEP cannot rely on the letter of trust declaration to claim it owns the shares that have already been disposed to He Shun;

(b) Under the Share Disposal Agreement, CEEP and He Shun can resolve any monetary dispute on the shares disposed in the Agreement through mediation or court process under the Laws of the People’s Republic of China.

Query (x)

It is stated on page 7 in relation to contingent liabilities:- “The Board has discussed the legal claims with its lawyers in Seattle and Singapore and based on the professional legal advice received, the Board believes the claims are without merit and hence supporting the view that no provisions are required.”

Please elaborate on the professional legal advice received which supports the view that no provisions are required.

The Company is relying on the professional legal advice from its attorneys Foster Garvey PC in Seattle that the claims are without merit and thus no provisions are required. The Company is in the process of vigorously defending all claims.
